

H2Overdrive Twin Driver Amusement Machines

H2Overdrive is an immersive video game amusement machine, sure to bring in extra revenue for your site.

This arcade game provides an exhilarating experience through its built-in 42-inch LCD screen, force feedback steering wheel and subwoofer built into the seat. Players choose from a range of different ships to race through levels, earning experience points to upgrade their ships and make them even faster.

The game features seven race tracks for players to explore, all based on real world locations. Players can even pick up where they left off as they're able to save progress with a pass code, adding to its re-playability.

Up to eight machines can be linked
